CELEBRATING BRENDA BROWN

SPECIAL POINTS OF INTEREST:

- > Fall Getaway meant 100 students from KU going to the Ozarks, hearing God's word and growing in their love for each other. The theme was, "Encountering Jesus," which we certainly did.
- > Several students have indicated new faith in Christ. These students came to know Him in the context of real relationships with our students.

PRAYER

- > Pray for our students as they consider going to our Denver Christmas Conference. We are praying for 100 students to go this year.
- > Pray for our leaders as they wrap up a semester of school and ministry.
- > Pray for wisdom as we challenge new students to lead.

Brenda has been with CCC since 1987 and as I was considering her birthday this month I was reminded about all she means to the staff and students. As we work and lead the team side by side, Brenda is an incredible example to all of us with her heart for Christ and servant attitude. Here are what a few have said lately.

Maggie Shehan, KU Student (above)

"The thing I most appreciate about Brenda is her unparalleled hospitality. She is so welcoming and opens her heart and home to anyone in need. This was especially evident when she opened your home to me as an option before I left for Italy. This meant a lot to me and I was so grateful for that gesture. There needs to be more women in the world like Brenda Brown!"

KU Staff Team

Lauren Kish, KU Staff (below left picture, Lauren is center in our staff picture)

"I really appreciate how real Brenda is with the people in her life. She is who she is, and she strives for true and authentic relationships. She has been so encouraging to me, and an example of a wife and mother who truly pursues the Lord."

"Sometimes being in college means that you are in a bubble when it comes to the people you have fellowship with. Brenda Brown is one of the Christians outside of that age-group bubble that I have looked up to over the past 3 years. From the moment I met her, I could see the heart God has given her for students and for the lost. Brenda is a great listener. She is willing to be open about her life with us and her wisdom shows through her vulnerability. I am thankful that God has allowed me to see Brenda and her families' lives through their involvement on my campus."

Lisa Kauffman, KU student (pictured right)

"If I had to say one thing about Brenda I would say that she sets an example of what I want to be like when I "grow up." She is a great example of a godly woman. She always listens with an open mind and loves unconditionally. Her love of God shines through the joy in her life. When I think of Brenda I think of "Joy!" She always seems so happy and energetic. I enjoy that in ministry she shares examples of her walk with Christ and what she struggles with. I enjoy that with her ministry she is there as a "motherly" figure. Meaning that she is always taking care of us like she would her own children. She loves everyone unconditionally and understands what we are going through and doesn't judge us for our struggles in our walk with Christ."

Rebecca Burgess, KU Staff and mom of three (staff picture second from right)

"I appreciate Brenda and love so many things about her. I learn so much from her by watching her live her life. Brenda is a great friend to me and cares so well for my family."
